Dear Parents/Guardians,

World Book Day is approaching on Thursday 4th March, and we would like to celebrate it both in school and with our remote learners by hosting a 'Masked Reader' Event!

Instead of the 'Masked Singer', the 'Masked Reader' event will see video clips of staff and children reading a page from their favourite book, under the disguise of their mask! Throughout the day, children will be able to watch recordings and will guess who the masked reader is and guess which book they are reading from. Children will also be taking part in book-themed activities throughout the day to celebrate our love of books and reading.

If your child wishes to participate in the event, please send a video recording of them reading a page from their favourite book whilst wearing their mask! The mask could be a paper mask, which they have decorated, a mask they already have at home or if you are technologically savvy, a digital mask! There is a mask template attached to this email you could use.

Once the children have been recorded reading a page from their favourite story, please ensure that they then pause for a couple of seconds and then reveal their true identity and share their favourite book by showing us the front cover and/or telling us the title of the book.

Please send the short recording to office@greatwhelnetham.co.uk by Monday 1st March. Should you have any questions, please email me.

We hope to make this World Book Day the best yet!

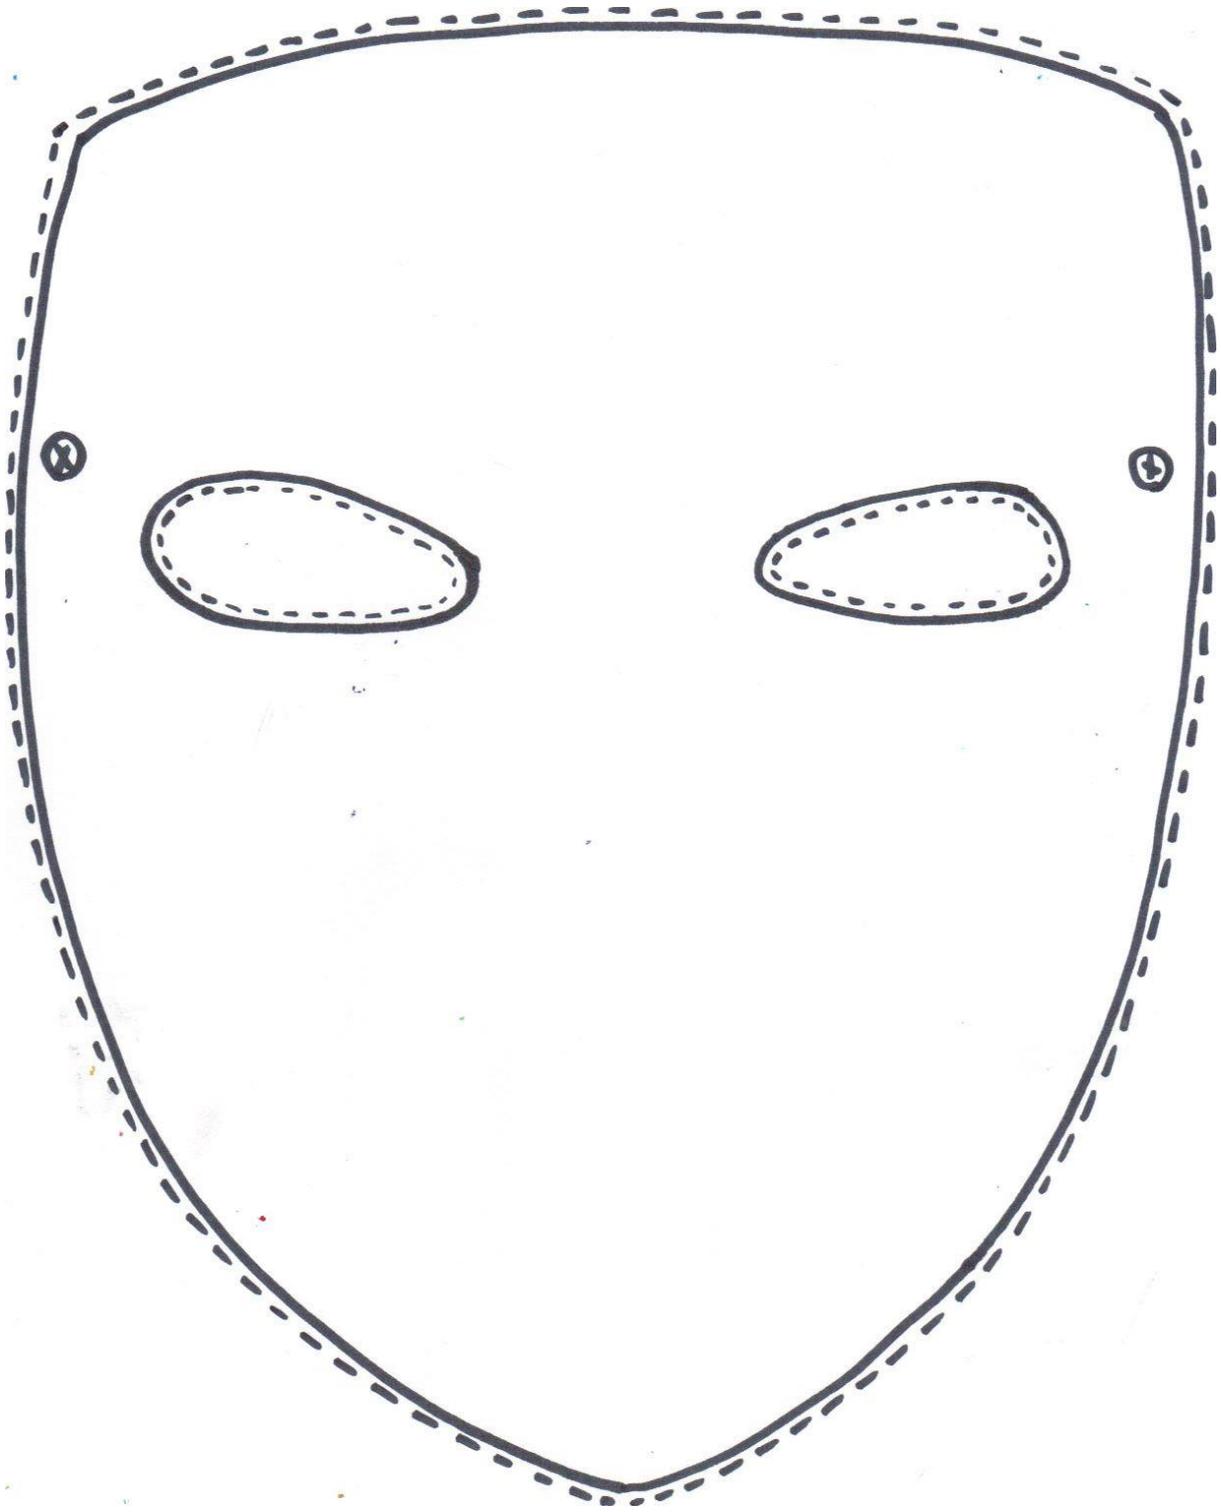

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask.

With thanks,

Mrs Lockwood & Ms Wallis
