

Creation Myth Final Draft

Relaion Creation

In the beginning there were two nemesis who hated each other and they were the devil, the lord of dark, and the fire god, the god of light. Then one day they had a gruesome battle in the centre of what we know now as the earth. Then all of the sudden out of nowhere the fire god had defeated the devil after years of fighting. Then that was what made day and night and dark and light.

But Nuna the fire God wanted to create something in the emptiness of the world. So then one day Nuna had pooped out Reca the heavens God, Carana the land God, Cera the water God and Nura the creator of all living things.

But Reca, the oldest sibling when she was pooped out, was frustrated and devastated because the other three were boys and they bullied her, which meant she had no friends and was lonely. So Nuna threw Reca up to the heavens. So everytime she cries and is upset it rains and when she throws up it hails and thunder and lightning are born.

Carana created the Land so there was somewhere to walk. Carana also created the mountains and caves by stamping and trodding on the land, which molded out the caves and mountains, to make some difference on the land.

After, Cera the ocean God created the ocean , rivers and lakes by cracking open the land with his all mighty hands. Then in the gaps created water in the cracks and dips for some difference in the world.

Then Nura created all living things in and out of the ocean. He made all sorts of animals - four legged ones, no legged animals and much more. He also created pink flowers, blue flowers, trees for oxygen so you can live on this planet, bushes and much more.

Then Nuna and the Devil began to get old after years and years began to grow old and tied. Then he told the other Gods to carry on with the earth in his honour. So they carried on with the lovely creation. Then with the body of Nuna and the Devil they created the first few humans. They made women and men. Then the gods said to them "Go and create more of your kind".
"Ok" replied the humans.

Then the four Gods said to the people "Treat this land and respect it as you would your own". Because of how long the creation took. But there was also a struggle at first because the men and women could not coordinate their legs and arms properly and didn't know their surroundings very well.
